REPORT
OF THE
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS
OF THE
Town of Madbury for Year Ending Mar. 1, 1882.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Amount of money, $105 54.

Ira L. Jenkins, Prudential Committee.

Summer Term—Miss Lydia A. Jenkins, Teacher.

Wages per month, $28.00.

Length of Term, 9 weeks.

Number of pupils, 5.

Average daily attendance, 4 28—45.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 2.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor—Herbert T. Jenkins, Fannie S. Emery.

Fall Term—Miss Lydia A. Jenkins, Teacher.

Wages per month, $28.00.

Length of Term, 6 weeks.

Number of pupils, 4.

Average daily attendance, 3.9.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 1.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 1—Herbert L. Jenkins.

Winter Term—Miss Lydia A. Jenkins, Teacher.

Wages per month, $30.00.

Length of Term, 12 weeks.

Number of pupils, 6.

Average daily attendance, 5 71—120.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 2.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 2—Herbert L. Jenkins, Charles E. Jenkins.

This school has always been one of the best in town, and this year it was no exception. This district adopted the very excellent plan of securing a good teacher, and keeping the same during the year. A good degree of interest was manifested throughout the year, and the closing examination showed conclusively that there had been earnest work on the part of both teacher and scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Amount of money, $269.42.

Ivory H. Kelly, Prudential Committee.

Summer Term—Miss Vesta A. Bean, Teacher.

Wages per month, $30.00.

Length of term, 10 weeks.

Number of pupils, 17.

Average daily attendance, 10.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 1.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 1—Carrie S. Foss.

Miss Bean's efforts have been crowned with success, and every thing seemed for once, in this district, to glide along smoothly, as the political waters did not trouble this term, and we are happy to say that her little flock was well cared for and made good improvement.

Fall Term—Miss Elizabeth A. Henderson, Teacher.

Wages per month, $30.00.

Length of term, 10 weeks.

Number of pupils, 18.

Average daily attendance, 15.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 4.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 4—Carrie S. Foss, Martha D. Henderson, Stephen Berry, and Herbert Berry.

This was Miss Henderson's first efforts at teaching. This term was mostly composed of small pupils, but Miss Henderson, with patience possessed only by the loving teacher, endeavored to impress their minds with the importance of school privileges and the need of improving the same, and the closing examination gave evidence that her instructions were heeded.

Winter Term—George W. Glass, Teacher.

Wages per month, $30.00.

Length of Term, 12 weeks.

Number of pupils, 20.

Average daily attendance, 13.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 1.

No. of scholars on the roll of honor, 1—Charles W. Miles.

This was Mr. Glass' first attempt at teaching, and he entered upon the duties of this term under peculiar and embarrassing circumstances, but he succeeded better than could have been expected, with many of the community arrayed against him from beginning to end. It is exceedingly difficult, not to say impossible, to maintain discipline among pupils of the age of some of the boys of this school without the hearty co-operation of parents. Irregularity in attendance has been the bane of this school during the year. The school-house is of easy access to most of the scholars; there has been very little sickness among them, so this fault seems to spring entirely from wilful neglect on the part of the parents; the teacher who does his or her duty will some times have occasion to correct scholars, and when it is properly done it is a proper thing to do, but it is not the part of wisdom for parents to sympathize with them to the extent of removing them from the school or even allowing them to soothe their wounded feelings by running at large a few days. Whatever of good accomplished in this school was due to the energy and perseverance of the teacher in the teeth of opposition, which would have demolished and driven from the field one less determined than Mr. Glass, but he, conscious of the integrity of his purpose, labored on, and achieved a degree of success gratifying to himself and friends, and a rebuke to his opposers.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Amount of money, $169.87.

Charles W. Hayes, Prudential Committee.

Summer Term—Miss Nellie L. Locke, Teacher.

Wages per month, $24.00.

Length of term, 8 weeks and 4 days.

Number of pupils, 11.

• Average daily attendance, 10.66.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 8.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 8—Arthur L. Fernald, Frank W. Jones, Rosa A. Emerson, Addie J. Evans, Nellie M. Hayes, Annie L. Hayes, Annie A. Varney, Effie L. Varney.

Fall Term—Miss Nellie L. Locke, Teacher.

Wages per month, $24.00.

Length of Term, 10 weeks.

Number of pupils, 11.

Average daily attendance, 10.99.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, —.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 8—Albert D. Emerson, Arthur L. Fernald, Elvin Varney, John Young, Rosa A. Emerson, Addie J. Evans, Annie A. Varney, Effie L. Varney.

Miss Locke's previous experience in this school gave her the advantage of knowing just where to begin; it improved very much under her instructions, and she has fully sustained her former reputation as a teacher.

Winter Term—Miss Helen Champion Bennet, Teacher.

Wages per month, $24.00.

Length of term, 10 weeks unfinished.

Number of pupils, 11.

Average daily attendance, 11.

No. of pupils who have not been absent or tardy, 6.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 6—Addie J. Evans, Nellie M. Hayes, Arthur L. Fernald, Elvin K. Varney, Frank J. Woodes, John M. Young.

Mr. Hayes, the committee, was fortunate in being able to obtain the services of Miss Bennet. The parents seemed to be co-workers with the teacher, which lightened her labors and greatly added to the benefits derived. At the closing examination the scholars showed a thoroughness and promptness in answers worthy of imitation, and both teacher and scholars seem to have accepted the divine injunction, "Let all things be done decently and in order"

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Amount of money, $162.59.

Isaac G. Felker, Prudential Committee.

Summer Term—Miss Annie S. Tuttle, Teacher.

Wages per month, $24.00.

Length of term, 10 weeks.

Number of pupils, 14.

Average daily attendance, 13.50.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 6.

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 6—Martie E. Davis, Ida M. Church, Mary A. Huckins, Georgie M. Twombly, Walter S. Twombly, Ellery M. Felker.

Progress and discipline good, method of instruction satisfactory, commendable progress in reading and writing. The parents, teacher, and scholars seem to be combined in this district to make it one of the best in town, and should the parents continue to visit the school as is shown by the number of names on the register, its highest aim will be accomplished.

Winter Term—George E. Buzzell, Teacher.

Wages per month, $30.00.

Length of term, 12 weeks.

No. of pupils, 23.

Average daily attendance, 20.23.

No. of pupils who have not been absent, 8.

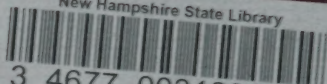

No. of pupils on the roll of honor, 8—Lillian W. Young, George E. Twombly, Mary A. Huckins, Frank W. Sanders, Ellery M. Felker, Charles G. Sanders, John H. Twombly, Gilman H. Twombly

This school was not visited at the end of the term, the Superintendent not being notified. We trust this has been a very profitable term, and has given good satisfaction to all, as we are informed; he has since been employed by the same district to teach a private school, which is now in progress.

Superintendent of Schools.
